

Department of English

E-News No. 22/2019

Research Talk

Dr. Werner Botha from Nanyang Technological University in Singapore will be giving a talk on "Language, social networks and Singapore English" on Friday March 15 at 2:30pm in the Ezone.

All are welcome!

2019 IWW Literary Festival

The theme for this year's International Writers' Workshop (IWW) Literary Festival (March 11 - 16) is The Many Worlds of Science Fiction.

The multi-lingual sci-fi festival features an exciting series of talks with topics such as how science influences art, imagining the post-human, the feminist perspective on speculative art, and AI and moral imagination.

Professor Eli Park Sorensen is a speaker for the panel discussion on "Fact & Fiction: Sci-Fi as Social Critique" at the festival. Details as follows:

Date: March 14 (Thursday)

Time: 7:30 - 9:00pm

Venue: SWT 701, 7/F Shaw Tower, Hong Kong Baptist University.

Click here for the full programme.

Outreach and Service

On February 25, Professor Jette Hansen Edwards served as a judge for South China Morning Post's Student of the Year award for the subject area of English.

