

Department of English

E-News No. 9/2018

Workshop on Academic Writing in Applied Linguistics

Professor Carmen Lee is giving a workshop that guides you through the process of writing an academic paper in Applied Linguistics. Topics include the structure of an academic paper, citation and referencing conventions in Applied Linguistics, and more advanced techniques such as writing up the literature review and research findings, stylistic choices, and ways of formulating arguments. You will also get the opportunity to seek advice from Professor Lee on specific problems you have encountered in your own writing, so don't miss it:

Date: November 10, 2018 (Saturday)

Time: 4:45pm - 6:00pm

Venue: Room 304, Lee Shau Kee Building, CUHK

Students' Work

Our final year student Hazel Fok has written an article for the latest issue of "New Asia Life" to share her experience in the New Asia College / Yale University Summer Community Service Exchange. Well done, Hazel! [Read the article here]

Career Talks and Seminars

On 6 November (Tuesday) at 2:30pm - 4:00pm in Room 515, Lee Shau Kee Building, AlphaSights will host a seminar on how to choose a career outside your major.

On 7 November (Wednesday) at 3:30pm - 5:00pm in LT4, Cheung Yu Tung Building, NLP practitioner Alex Lam will conduct a workshop on how to build up social networks via both face-to-face interactions and online platforms. More details here.

On 9 November (Friday) at 2:30pm - 3:30pm in LT5, Cheng Yu Tung Building, the global communications marketing firm Edelman will present a recruitment talk on finding your career in communications marketing.

Login to the Career Planning and Development Centre to register for these talks.
[<https://cpdc.osa.cuhk.edu.hk/student/login>]

Essay Competition

Open to post-graduate students, the essay competition for the 49th St. Gallen Symposium in Switzerland is now calling for entries. If your essay qualifies, you win a free trip to Switzerland to attend the St. Gallen Symposium where you can meet and debate with the world's global leaders and decision-makers.

The essay question this year is "Is it as good as it gets? What approach would you suggest to change the current purpose of capital?" The deadline is 1 February, 2019. More details here.

