

Department of English

E-News No. 15 / 2019-2020

Free Admission Tickets to the 2020 Hong Kong Book Fair

If you attend one of the “English and Foreign Reading Series Seminars” on 17, 18 and 21 July (see more details here), you can redeem one complimentary admission ticket to the Hong Kong Book Fair!

There are 10 ticket redemption letters available at the General Office to be distributed on a first-come-first-served basis.

The original copy of the redemption letter has to be presented at the reception counter. You should also pre-register for the seminar(s) here.

Publications

Congratulations to our MA in AEL student, Angus Cheng, on having published the following essay in the international journal Asian Englishes:

Cheng, A. (2020). Medium of instruction in Hong Kong secondary schools: integrating L1 in English-medium classrooms, Asian Englishes, DOI: 10.1080/13488678.2020.1780779

Scholarship for Prospective English Teacher Studies

Alan Poon, a seasoned second language educator, has pledged a donation to offer the Alan Poon Scholarships for Prospective English Teachers or Academics to support aspiring undergraduates at the Department of English at CUHK who have demonstrated exceptional potential in English teaching and/or researching the use of English in global and local contexts.

There is one scholarship at the value of HKD5,000 per annum. To be eligible, you should:

- be a final-year undergraduate at the Department of English at CUHK
- have attained a cumulative GPA of 3.5 or above in the current year
- have demonstrated a passion for English teaching and/or engaged in intellectual explorations of English from linguistic and literary perspectives

More information on the scholarship and its application will be announced in due course.

