Exemplary Capstone Projects 2019-2020 Term 2

Our final-year students worked very hard on their capstone projects despite the challenging circumstances and produced many high-quality works. Five capstone projects have been selected to represent the best of our output in 2019-2020 Term 2. Please click here to have a look at the outline of these projects:

Many congratulations to:

1. Cheung, Chi Yu Rose
   “Truth and Falsehood in The Faerie Queene, Book I”

2. Fan, Wing Yan Minda
   “Hong Kong Advanced and Intermediate English Learners’ Comprehension and Appreciation of English Language-based Jokes”

3. Fok, Wing Ting Hazel
   “Writing Migrant Domestic Workers of Hong Kong (English) Literature”

4. Wan Ho Yi Kirsten
   “Reading George Orwell’s Nineteen Eighty-Four from an Althusserian Perspective”

5. Wong, Wing Sze Ceci
   “An Investigation of the Role of L1 Gloss and L2 Context in English Vocabulary Learning Among Primary ESL Learners”
David Parker Alliance Scholarship and Award

The David Parker Alliance (DPA) is very happy to award the DPA Best Academic Achievement Scholarship of HK$3,000 to our student Emily Olsson for her excellent academic performance in 2019-2020. The DPA Best Story Award that comes with a HK$500 prize goes to Ryan Ma for his short story “01.” Congratulations!

DPA is a networking programme initiated by friends, English alumni and colleagues in memory of the late Professor David Parker. He was the Chairperson of the Department of English at CUHK from 2000 to 2009. To continue his legacy, David Parker Memorial Scholarships were established to encourage English majors to achieve excellence in academic studies, community services, stage productions and creative writing, so that the love and dedication of Professor Parker can continue to have an impact on English majors.
