

Department of English

E-News No. 6 / 2021-2022

Research Seminar

Professor Janet Ho, Assistant Professor in the Department of English at Lingnan University, will give a talk on “Fleeing lockdown in the time of Corona: Animal metaphors and dehumanisation in virtual space”. Click here for more details about the seminar.

Date: Friday, 22 October 2021
Time: 11:30 am
Venue: E-Zone, 332 Fung King Hey Building

All are welcome!

Diversity & Inclusion Event

You are cordially invited to participate in a student and alumni sharing event, 'Our intercultural journeys at CUHK: Student & Alumni Voices'. The event is part of a series of events and activities organized for CUHK's Diversity and Inclusion Week (21-30 October 2021). In this interactive sharing session, a panel of four students and/or alumni will reflect on their language and intercultural learning experiences during their studies at CUHK. A panel discussion will follow the presentations. Join us for stimulating discussions on ways to enhance intercultural learning and promote meaningful intercultural dialogues on CUHK campus!

Date: Friday, 29 October 2021
Time: 11:00am - 12:00 noon
Venue: Lecture Theatre 5, Cheng Yu Tung (CYT) Building
CUHK (outside University MTR station)

Facilitator:
Prof. Tongle Sun, Department of English

Speakers:
Ms. Chan Sze Lok Charlotte, MPhil Student, Department of English, Faculty of Arts
Mr. Chan Yin Lun Ambrose, CUHK Graduate, Class of 2020, Faculty of Arts
Ms. Dilpreet Sambali, CUHK Graduate, Class of 2021, Faculty of Social Science
Ms. Kwok Ka Po Jojo, CUHK Graduate, Class of 2021, Faculty of Medicine

Student Achievements

Our PhD student, Stephanie Studzinski, won the CUHK 2021 Outstanding Students Award, for her remarkable achievement and contribution with a continual positive impact on the community. Congratulations, Stephanie!

Our PhD students, Cora Liu Lurong, Pinky Chung-Man Lui, and Ying Zhou Zoe, won the 'Best Paper Award' for their individual papers presented at the Postgraduate Student Conference in Humanities – "Negotiating Identity and Creativity in Times of Crisis", Hong Kong Baptist University, 24-25 September 2021. Well done!

Research and Publications

Our MPhil student, Elizabeth Chung, presented a conference paper entitled "Literary Cartography: Construction Identity through Geography" at the Postgraduate Student Conference in Humanities – "Negotiating Identity and Creativity in Times of Crisis", Hong Kong Baptist University, 24-25 September 2021.

Our PhD student, Cora Liu Lurong, presented a conference paper entitled "'No Longer Ever Hungry but Forever Hungry': Food and Aboriginal Realism in The Yield" at the Postgraduate Student Conference in Humanities – "Negotiating Identity and Creativity in Times of Crisis", Hong Kong Baptist University, 24-25 September 2021.

Our PhD student, Pinky Chung-Man Lui, presented a conference paper entitled "Creating Destruction: I May Destroy You and the Self in Crisis" at the Postgraduate Student Conference in Humanities – "Negotiating Identity and Creativity in Times of Crisis", Hong Kong Baptist University, 24-25 September 2021.

Our PhD student, Alana Leilani C. Narciso, presented a conference paper entitled "The Creative Writing Workshop as Discursive Space" at the Postgraduate Student Conference in Humanities – "Negotiating Identity and Creativity in Times of Crisis", Hong Kong Baptist University, 24-25 September 2021.

Our PhD student, Ying Zhou Zoe, presented a conference paper entitled "'Undermine the system from within': The Shifting Layers of Irony in the Poetry of Derek Mahon" at the Postgraduate Student Conference in Humanities – "Negotiating Identity and Creativity in Times of Crisis", Hong Kong Baptist University, 24-25 September 2021.