

Department of English

E-News No. 25/2019

OUP Summer Internship

In case you missed last week's E-news, Oxford University Press is recruiting summer helpers for their ELT Department. It's a great opportunity for Year 1 and 2 English majors to gain on-the-job experience in proofreading, editing and material design. More details here.

Applications, along with a CV and your preference of team (Primary, Junior Secondary or Senior Secondary) should be emailed to hr.hk@oup.com by April 7, 2019. Interviews will be conducted in mid-April.

Summer programmes with HKMMDA

Applications are open for summer exchange programmes in Shanghai and Guizhou organized by the Hong Kong Multimedia Design Association. These will be eye-opening experiences for those interested in architecture, multimedia design, the creative industry and cultural management. More details here.

Capstone presentations

Final-year students will share the fruit of their hard work and many interesting findings and insightful ideas on the evenings of April 10 and 11 (Wednesday, Thursday). Details here. See you all there!

CENG Poetry Slam

Everyone is cordially invited to the annual CENG Poetry Slam and celebrate the creativity of our first-year students on April 16 (Tuesday) at 2:30pm – 4:00pm in LSK LT7.

Research and Publications

Prof. Carmen Lee was one of the invited speakers at the HKU Colloquium on Sociolinguistics and the Humanities on March 26, organized by the Society of Fellows in the Humanities at the University of Hong Kong. The title of her talk was "Art as Curated Texts: Authenticating the #instartist Identity in Social Media."

Professor Eddie Tay published two poems, "How I Impressed Others with My Cantonese" and "Choices," in World Literature Today. Read them here!

Outreach

Professor Julian Lamb and Dr. Suzanne Wong gave a short lecture to 30 secondary school students as part of the University's Taster Fair that took place on March 23 on campus. The title was "Old Words and New Words: English at CUHK."

Closure of E-zone on April 8 - 9

Due to refurbishment work (including wall repainting and carpet replacement) to be carried out from April 1 to 9 in E-zone and the corridor, E-zone will be closed on April 8 and 9 (Monday and Tuesday). We apologize for the inconvenience caused.

HAPPY READING WEEK!