

Department of English

E-News No. 7/2019

Latest Issue of CU Writing in English and Exemplary Capstone Projects

This year's CU Writing in English, the Department's creative writing journal, is out! Congratulations to the poets and writers, and a big thank-you to the editors for putting together a collection of refreshing and mesmerizing poems and short stories.

The new issue of Exemplary Capstone Projects showcases outstanding capstone projects with topics ranging from superheroes and cross-dressing to hedging devices and language ideology.

Please drop by the General Office to pick up your copies.

Symposium on the Gothic on the Feast of Samhain (Halloween)

Jointly organized by Professor O'Sullivan and the Irish Consulate, the symposium features Professor Li Ou, our postgraduate student Miss Liz Wan as well as Dr. Sorcha Ni Fhlainn (Manchester Metropolitan University), Ms. Devaleena Kundu (Christ University, India) and Professor Tammy Lai-Ming Ho (Baptist University).

Date: 30th October, 2019 (Wednesday)
Time: 2:00pm – 6:30pm
Venue: E-zone

Click here for details on the programme here.

English Society High Table

One of the highlights on the English Society's annual agenda is the High Table Dinner. The event gathers English majors at CUHK and other universities in Hong Kong for an evening of socializing and sharing. Details for this year's dinner are as follows:

Date: 25th November 2019 (Monday)
Time: 6:30pm - 8:45pm (reception starts at 6:00pm)
Venue: Morningside College Dining Hall
LG1, Maurice R. Greenberg Building, Morningside College
Dress code: Formal
Fee: $250