

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

E-News No. 12 / 2019-2020

MARK YOUR CALENDAR

The Graduation Feast for Class of 2020 will be held on 14 May 2020 (Thursday). Stay tuned for more details.

RESEARCH TALKS

Dr. Prem Phyak from Tribhuvan University in Nepal will be giving a talk on "Spatiality of language policy: (Re) configuring 'English medium school' space in urban multilingual contexts" on 21 January 2020 at 11am in the E-Zone. More information can be found here.

All are welcome!

INTERNSHIP

Cedar Hong Kong is looking for students interested in marketing to join them as interns. You will get to work on all different areas of the industry and in particular editorials. You may also find yourself helping the design team and even attending a photoshoot.

Cedar Hong Kong is a content marketing agency that produces both online and print content for clients that include Cathay Pacific, Swire Properties and Hong Kong Jockey Club. Cedar is headquartered in London, with offices in Hong Kong and Cape Town: cedarcom.co.uk

A small daily stipend to help cover meals and transportation will be provided.

If interested, please contact Miss Emily Chu at emily.chu@cedarcom.hk.

AWARDS

Congratulations to Professor Ron Darvin for winning the AAAL Dissertation Award 2020 for his dissertation entitled "Digital identities, educational inequities: Investigating social class and new literacies of migrant Filipino youth in the knowledge economy."

The AAAL Dissertation Award began in 2016 to acknowledge a dissertation that demonstrates research excellence, transcends narrow disciplinary fields, and has broad impact on and implications for the field of applied linguistics as a whole.

