Call for Applications - ENGE2960 The World in English:

An Oxford Summer Programme

We are pleased to announce that the Oxford summer course (ENGE2960 - The World in English: An Oxford Summer Programme) will be offered in August 2025. All English majors who are second-year and third-year students are welcome to apply. Please note that if you intend to join the Oxford summer programme this time, you must be physically present in Hong Kong throughout September 2025 to fulfill the three-hour community service requirement of the Programme.

The course is generously subsidized by the Department. You will spend 2.5 weeks at one of Oxford's beautiful residential colleges, and interact with and learn from Oxford residents, academics, and tutors while exploring cultural sites in the city and its surroundings. Your classes during weekdays will be on English literature related to Oxford (so that you can visit the Oxford sites related to particular writers and works), linguistics (with a focus on British variations of English), and current affairs (where you will discuss major social and political issues with your tutors). Your tutors for these classes will be Oxford graduate students who are experts in these fields. Outside class hours, you will have the opportunity to explore Oxford and its surroundings.

If the above sounds of interest to you, seize this meaningful opportunity to study in Oxford and apply! Please fill out the application form and submit it to the General Office via email at english-dept@cuhk.edu.hk or in person by Friday, 1 November 2024 (before 5:00pm).
