

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

E-News No. 13/2024-25

Andrew Parkin Drama Cup Updates!

We are excited to announce that the photos from the APC Masterclass held on January 10, 2025, have been posted! The participants of the masterclass have formed four performing teams for the upcoming APC Drama Competition scheduled for late May. More details about each team and their performances will be shared soon, so stay tuned for updates!

The Inaugural Morningside College Essay Competition

Morningside College is excited to announce the launch of a new, university-wide essay competition open to all CUHK undergraduate students. Submit your original narrative nonfiction essay for a chance to win up to 3,000 HKD and publication in the 2025 Morningside Magazine. The theme this year is 'Soundscapes'.

Click here for more details on the theme, rules, and how to submit!

Submission deadline: 10 March 2025

CUHK Capstone Project Presentation Competition 2025

This is your chance to share the results of your year-long capstone project with a university-wide audience! To learn more about the competition and view past winners' presentations click here.

A Training Workshop on "Communicating your capstone project to a wide audience" will be organized. To register for the workshop, click here.

Date: 26 February 2025 (Wed)

Time: 6:30 p.m. – 8:30 p.m.

Venue: TBC

Workshop registration deadline: 24 February 2025 (Mon), 11:59 p.m.

Research and Publications

Professor Jette Hansen Edwards gave a keynote address on Listener bias and the impact of audio vs. visual stimuli on attitudes toward different varieties of English. 2nd International Conference on 'Globalization, Inclusiveness and Diversity in English Studies' (GIDES 2025), University of Wah, Pakistan. 13 January 2025.